

Value

Heatmap showing the relationship between 'Len' (Y-axis) and 'thresh' (X-axis). The color scale ranges from dark purple (low) to light blue (high). The heatmap shows that for higher 'Len' values, the relationship with 'thresh' is more complex, with higher values generally corresponding to higher 'Len' values, especially for higher 'thresh' values.